

GENERAL INSURANCE DAY 2009 – SATURDAY 3 OCT 09 HEARTS AND CRAFTS @ METTA SCHOOL

The General Insurance Association of Singapore (GIA) and its members will commemorate General Insurance Day 2009 (GI Day 09) with a Hearts & Crafts @ Metta School carnival event on Sat 3 Oct 09 at Metta School in Simei. The GIA is looking forward to the participation and support of members, their families, and invited guests to join in for a half day of fun and community activities. To mark the occasion, the GIA will also donate $10,000 to Metta Association.

Last year, in line with the overall East Asian Insurance Congress (EAIC) General Insurance Day celebrations the GIA commemorated G I Day 08 with a tree-planting event. This year however we are focusing on the social aspect of the theme of Sustainability, supporting the long-term welfare cause at Metta.

Member companies can choose to make use of this event as part of their Corporate Social Responsibility programme. Their staff are invited to personally contribute to this mission if they wish to. Better still, they should take their children along to participate in this community service and make it a family occasion.

More information about this much-anticipated event will be sent soon to all members for distribution to their staff. Meantime they are urged to keep the Saturday morning of 3 Oct 09 free for the General Insurance Day Hearts & Crafts @ Metta. It is an opportunity to do their part for the community. Find out more about Metta at their website: www.metta.org.sg

The GIA appreciates the support and active participation of members, their families and invited guests.
